Now that we have moved in and settled into the apartment we rented, this is a good opportunity to thank you for your professionalism, your patience, your pleasant demeanor, your dedication, and the care you demonstrated.

Throughout the entire process, you were attentive to our needs while emphasizing what was important to us and achieving the necessary improvements for us.

Additionally, you knew how to find the point of balance between us and the apartment owners during the negotiations, which thanks to you, were conducted in a very good spirit.

Well done,

Best regards,
